

Old Grey Coat

Right now home seems the only way out,
It's so easy just to leave it all behind
No more trying to work it all out
God knows I've tried but I just can't get on by

What keeps pulling me back all I want to do is run
What says give it time when it's clear that there's no fun
What will fill this whole coz it's empty all the time
Who will comfort me with the lonely tears I cry
I cry

Chorus
Why is it never right
Why does it have to be such a fight
I'm always running away
Why am I always running away
Why does it feel so wrong
The world feels so cruel when you're all on your own
Where did the good times go
They faded away like an old grey coat
They faded away like an old grey coat

I feel so doomed sometimes
I'm so scared but I must fight
I take my chances may be next time they'll be right
Next time they'll be right

What keeps pushing me back is there no one left to love
What says stay this time is it fear of what's in store
And am I missing things the faster that I run
But if I slowed on down would it ever be enough, enough

Repeat Chorus

© Written by Lucia Cordaro